

“Condolences”

I noticed that the comment section is working on the Web site set up in memory of Cindy Ramos, the 58-year-old Tracy woman killed in her own home on Aug. 6.

Go to www.inmemoryofcindyramos.com to leave your condolences.

Services will be held today in her honor at 10 a.m. at the Chapel of the Chimes, 32992 Mission Blvd., in Hayward. A reception will take place right after at Neighborhood Church, 20600 John Drive, in Castro Valley. Her burial service will be at 1 p.m. on Friday, again at Chapel of the Chimes.

Though Cindy lived in Tracy, most of her family hails from the East Bay.

The two men suspected of stabbing to death Cindy in her own home are due in court on Thursday for further arraignment.

Posted in San Joaquin County, california, crime, journalism, life, police, tracy | Tagged cindy ramos, crime, cynthia ramos, murder |

One Response

1. on August 20, 2009 at 2:08 pm / Reply Steve B.

I'd like to thank you Jennifer for your care, concern, and coverage of the Cindy Ramos murder. Not to take anything from the Cantu murder, also in Tracy, Cindy's murder was just as tragic, merciless, and evil. Probably making 2009 a very grieving year for Tracy.

You've really reached people with your articles. I personally know because I've spoken to some of your readers at Cindy's funeral in Hayward. I'm Cindy's son-in-law Steven and I appreciate your care.

Thanks